KBIS 2022: Fulgor Milano to Launch New Column Refrigeration

Luxury built-in column refrigerators feature beautifully integrated design with several key features including precision temperature control

Orlando, FLA (February 1, 2022) – Italian luxury appliance manufacturer Fulgor Milano will launch their new column refrigeration during the upcoming 2022 Kitchen & Bath Industry Show (KBIS) from February 8-10, 2022, in Orlando, Florida. All column refrigeration units will be available in stainless-steel or panel-ready configurations, with optional handle kits to match the Sofia Professional or Distinto collections.

Fulgor Milano's premium refrigerator and freezer columns are meticulously handcrafted in Italy with the utmost attention to detail. The luxurious interior is illuminated with elegant LED lighting for optimal visibility and features bead-blasted stainless-steel crispers with metal drawer glides and shelf supports. The new touch-control interface offers complete temperature control and precision extending the preservation of food. Each unit is outfitted with a lateral evaporator design that creates a unique side-to-side airflow maintaining a consistent temperature when accessing the unit. The commercial-style cooling system is powerful enough to effectively and quickly bring down temperatures even when many items are added to the refrigerator after a day of shopping.

Fulgor Milano columns will be available in the North American market in a variety of widths (freezer: 18", 24", 30", fridge: 24", 30", 36", and wine column: 24"). The columns will be offered in two configurations - a panel-ready option to allow the units to be completely integrated with custom panels to match the adjacent cabinets, or a stainless option that matches the look of the cooking appliances and allows for a counter-depth flush installation.

Designers will appreciate the unique actuating hinges that allow for a true flush install with as little as  $\frac{1}{8}$ " clearance from adjacent cabinets for an elegant look. This allows for multiple units to be combined and offers complete freedom to configure any of the columns - fridge, freezer or wine cellar - in any combination of sizes.

The new column refrigeration will be displayed in the Fulgor Milano booth #W115 during KBIS from February 8-10, 2022. To schedule a booth appointment, please contact Allison Kennedy at allison@flyingcamel.com.
